Demands Soldiers' Release

State Dept. Serves
Red Czechoslovakia
With Brusque Note
About Kidnapped 7

WASHINGTON (P)—The United States has served Red Czechoslovakia with a brusque demand for the "immediate return" of seven U.S. soldiers who this government charged were kidnapped last Sunday.

The State Department disclosed last night that an exceptionally stiff note was delivered to the Czech foreign office in Prague yesterday.

That note dismissed as unfounded Czech claims that the seven—a captain and six enlisted men—were spying when they were seized by a Czech border patrol near the West German town of Baernau July 4.

But a few hours after the U.S. note was handed to Czech diplomatic officials, the Communist satellite government repeated its espionage charge in a Prague radio broadcast heard in Vienna.

The U.S. note, protesting "in the strongest terms this abduction of American soldiers," said the Americans "were proceeding innocently without arms along the (Czech-German) border . . . when they were seized by a Czech patrol."

The Army withheld public identification of the soldiers pending notification of next of kin but the Czechoslovak news agency Ceteka contacted by telephone in Prague today from Vienna, named them as Capt. Jack Davis, Pvt. Richard Jumper, Pfc. Leonard Tennis, Cpl. John Glasson, Pvt. Ross McGinnis, Pfc. George Switzer and Pfc. Jerry Griffith. Ceteka could give no home addresses.

V. Molotov Resumes Talk On Indochina

Other Key Figures
Are Also Expected
To Return Soon

GENEVA (P)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov returned to the Indochina conference today. His arrival promised a step-up in the negotiations for a cease-fire in the war which for nearly eight years has ravaged the French territory in the Far East.

The Russian was the first of the major diplomats to return to the parley which they left two and a half weeks ago after it settled down to negotiations between military representatives on details of a ceasefire.

Other key figures also were expected to return soon.

French Premier Pierre Mendes-France, who is acting as his country's foreign minister, announced in the National Assembly yesterday he would go to Geneva soon to take personal charge of the French delegation.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden also is expected back in Geneva early next week, and Communist China's Premier-Foreign Minister Chou En-lai likewise is expected to come back from Peking.

There has been no indication here, however, whether U.S. Secretary of State Dulles or Under Secretary of State Walter Bedell Smith will return from the United States.

In the absence of the top diplomats, conference activity has been confined chiefly to negotiations between representatives of the rival military commands in Indochina.

The busiest of these is made up of French, Vietnamese and Vietnamese officers and is concerned with arrangements for regrouping of troops if a truce is arranged for Viet Nam, the chief battleground of the Indochina war.

Boy Killed in Fall

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (P)—Edwin Tindall, 18, was fatally injured last night when he fell 10 feet from a ladder while picking cherries at his home here. His head struck a concrete step.

They Quit Teasing

Yesterday we grumbled about how the clouds kept teasing us with hopes of rain while we gasped for air below. As soon as The Democrat hit the streets, it rained and the temperature dropped. Maybe it pays to advertise.

Fair tonight and Friday. Cool again tonight, low in the 60s. Warmer Friday, high near 95. The temperature at 7 a.m. was 69; 89 at 1 p.m.; and 90 at 2 p.m. Rainfall Wednesday afternoon, 4 inch at State Fair Floral station. A heavier shower hit the downtown section late in the day. A drop in temperature from 101 at 2 p.m. to 88 by 5 p.m. was recorded.

One year ago today here high 39, low 67; two years ago 79, 57; three years ago 91, 74; rainfall .08.

K.C. Chamber Committee Attends—

Chamber Meeting Centers on Hope For Fertilizer Mixing Plant Here

Fertilizer and the possibility of getting a fertilizer mixing plant here was discussed at the dinner meeting held Wednesday night at the Bothwell Hotel when members of the Area Development Committee from the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce met with members of the board of directors of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, members of the agriculture committee, and the farm marketing committee.

Heading the group from Kansas City was Dwight Bedell, industrial commissioner of the Chamber of Commerce. Others were: Walter Atenweiler, agriculture commissioner of the Chamber of Commerce, Robert O'Keefe of the J. C. Nichols Co., Doyle Patterson of the Farm Belt Fertilizer Co., and J. C. Patterson, Sunbeam Chemical Co.

Sedalians attending were Claude L. Boul, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Chester A. Brown, executive manager; Elmer Adams, director of the agricultural division; Merle Vaughan, director of the farm marketing division; Don S. Lamm, chairman; Mrs. Ike L. Warren, treasurer; Everett Stevenson, Leon Archibas, C. C. Claycomb, John Harvey Sr., H. L. Crowe, Olen Monsees, all members of the agriculture committee; Jim Thompson, George Freese, John Sneed Jr., chairman of the livestock committee of the Pettis County Farm Bureau; William P. McCune, president of the Pettis County Farm Bureau, all members of the farm marketing committee, and Gene Kent, representing the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting was presided over by Don S. Lamm and invocation was by Claude L. Boul.

Speaking for the Kansas City group, Robert O'Keefe stated they represented a segment of the Area Development Committee and were meeting with Chamber of Commerce people over the state to discuss mutual problems. There are great possibilities in the Midwest area, he said, and there should be planned development. Mr. O'Keefe then introduced Walter Atenweiler, who pointed out that there are dozens of projects in this area but one of the most important is the balanced farming program to assist farm agents in sponsoring such a program for better stock and soil. One thing that is being done by the Missouri University School of Agriculture is to teach how to better utilize fertilizer, and the type fertilizer must be provided to fit in with the agriculture rotation. In this area, he said, are good farmers and good agricultural leadership, Missouri, he said, leads the eight states in the Midwest area in the use of fertilizer.

John Patterson told the group that there wasn't much fertilizer used when they started farming, but farming today is more of a business. A farmer must also be a good businessman to make money because of the expense of equipment and farming. The use of fertilizer is increasing fast, he said. There are plants to mix fertilizer which takes investment and skill to do it right. All this has happened in the past ten years, he pointed out.

John Sneed Jr., Sedalia, then told of the fertilizer mixing plant at Columbia, where the fertilizer is mixed right there for the farmers for their particular kind of soil. This man started with an investment of $15,000 for buildings and equipment which did not include the mixer. He mixed first by getting bags of different kinds of fertilizer, but now gets it by the carload. He mixes to standard formula or to order, bags it or trucks it directly to the farm.

When questioned about how the Columbia man was coming out financially, Mr. Sneed said, "Well, he is able to pay all his bills." He went on to tell that the man had started the business in February of this year.

Before hearing their sentences, these included a $50.00 clothing certificate from Mullins Clothing Co. received by Harry Dobel, 108 East Fifth, free movies for a year at the Uptown theater received by A. K. Downs, 600 West Fourth; a $50.00 clothing certificate from Sages Ready to Wear received by Mrs. Jacqueline Prowell, 1314 South Sneed; and free movies for a year at the Fox theater received by Douglas Eckerle of Otterville.

The longer sentences for the three men resulted from the fact that a jury convicted them last month on five charges each of assault with intent to kill and five charges each of assault with a dangerous weapon.

Mrs. LeBron was convicted only on five charges of assault with a dangerous weapon.

The CIO United Rubber Workers directed its 23,000 members in Goodyear plants to quit work in 10 cities at midnight last night.

First reports that the strike actually was in effect came from plants in Akron and St. Mary's, Ohio; Muncie, Ind.; Los Angeles; Topeka, Kan.; Lincoln, Neb.; and Gadsden, Ala.

Other plants are at Jackson, Mich.; New Bedford, Mass.; and Windsor, Ont.

Negotiations broke up here last night after both sides refused to yield in a dispute over a wage increase. The company held fast to its offer of a pay boost of 5 cents an hour. The union insisted that was not sufficient and did not make corrections sought in wage differentials in "low-paid plants."

Negotiators had been meeting here since June 22. A previous meeting, held at Canton, Ohio, recessed May 4.

The union never has disclosed its exact demands.

Negotiations here for Goodyear were part of a series of meetings being conducted for the rubber industry. The contracts expire next February but were brought up under a reopening clause. Union representatives are meeting in Cleveland with the Firestone and General Tire and Rubber companies. A meeting with the U.S. Rubber Co. is being held in New York and a recessed session with Goodrich is scheduled to be resumed here next Tuesday.

At Goodyear, the workers now average $2.08 an hour.

L. S. Buckmaster, general president of the union, said, "The strike was caused by the refusal of Goodyear to grant an adequate wage increase and to make any substantial correction of wage differentials in their low-paid plants."

He said the union was willing to continue the negotiations today but that the company said it was not ready.

"We are of opinion that this first count of the indictment is void for vagueness," Judge E. Barrett Prettyman said in speaking for the majority.

"The word 'sympathizer' is not of sufficiently certain meaning to sustain a charge of perjury. The count is that Lattimore said he had never been a sympathizer whereas he had been a sympathizer. There is no definition of the term 'sympathizer' or of any concrete specification of its content either in the indictment or in the statute. Without such definition or specification the term has no certain meaning."

The counts the court reinstated were based on this testimony by Lattimore.

That he didn't know that Asiaticus, a writer for Pacific Affairs, a magazine of the Institute of Pacific Relations which more edited, was a Communist. Asiaticus.

When Sedalians are picked up by the local authorities, they will face the full payment of the stickies as well as an assessment which will be made on violators who are guilty of delinquency in the purchase of them.

If the Grant family moved to Sedalia, it must have been 29 years after the couple was married because the town didn't get its name until 1853.

Some interesting data on Sedalia was supplied in a brochure published in 1904 by my father, Col. George H. Scriven, then editor of The Sedalia Sentinel, which reads in part:

"In February, 1856, General George R. Smith (Sedalia's founder) purchased from Absalom McVey 337 acres of land on the present site of Sedalia. The following March he purchased from the same gentleman an additional 166.45 acres on this site, making his landed possessions amount to about 1,100 acres. To make these purchases he borrowed the money while he was yet a resident of Georgetown. On November 30, 1857, he filed for record a plat of the town which he named Sedalia, in honor of his daughter, Sarah E. Cotton. The name Sedalia was soon changed to Sedalia.

The first sale of lots was in 1858, a Norwegian, on September 4, 1858."

State Business Head Makes Assessment—

Describes Pay System of State Government As Unfair and Recommends Sharp Changes

JEFFERSON CITY (P)—The pay in those appointive offices under the governor's control.

It did not cover the 7,200 workers in the departments covered by the merit system.

Cooper said the pay ranges were too wide between agencies for similar work. One department that recommended sharp changes to was able to get more adequate and confusion, cure low morale funds from the Legislature could offer higher salaries.

Cooper got the job under a law. That, he said, was not good for enacted by the last Legislature. He morale among state workers and was supposed to get $1,000 a year it prompted a number to quit jobs for studying the payroll systems they had held for some time so of state agencies not under the they could take places in other departments. But the Legislature parts at higher pay. Just last forgot to appropriate the money so week one woman left a position she'll have to wait on a special ap-had held for over ten years and proportion to be paid for his transferred to another department at a $40 a month increase.

Actually, the study concerned Cooper recommended that rigid less than the average salary in 26 of charts and graphs, plus a long appendage detailing suggested job classifications and a resume of the political patronage class—the em-scales for similar work be the might want to set up a commis-sions work and responsibilities required

Puerto Ricans Jailed

Four Terrorists Get Maximum Sentences For Wounding Five US Congressmen

WASHINGTON (P)—Four Puerto Rican terrorists who shot up the House of Representatives March 1 and wounded five of its members today were given maximum prison sentences ranging up to 7 years.

A fiery Brunette, Lolita LeBron, 34, self-styled leader of the group, received a sentence of 16 years, 8 months, to 50 years.

Her three male companions received sentences of 25 to 75 years.

U.S. District Judge Alexander Holtzoff said he felt maximum sentences were "justified because the crime was 'so heinous, so infamous, so daring and so atrocious as to shock the conscience of the nation."

The longer sentences for the three men resulted from the fact that a jury convicted them last month on five charges each of assault with intent to kill and five charges each of assault with a dangerous weapon.

John Sneed Jr., Sedalia, then told of the fertilizer mixing plant at Columbia, where the fertilizer is mixed right there for the farmers for their particular kind of soil. This man started with an investment of $15,000 for buildings and equipment which did not include the mixer. He mixed first by getting bags of different kinds of fertilizer, but now gets it by the carload. He mixes to standard formula or to order, bags it or trucks it directly to the farm.

When questioned about how the Columbia man was coming out financially, Mr. Sneed said, "Well, he is able to pay all his bills." He went on to tell that the man had started the business in February of this year.

John Patterson, who is with a fertilizer firm in Kansas City, said the trouble is that everybody wants fertilizer at the same time. The fastidious farmer, he went on to say, plans ahead and buys ahead. Today, Mr. Patterson said, there is plenty of fertilizer and the consumer is again coming into his own with all products. For a number of years the demand exceeded the supply on everything, but not now. The picture has changed and things are they should be again after shortages to the war.

Mr. Patterson stated that he thought a fertilizer mixing plant in this area would be very effective. Distance, he said, is quite a factor here, especially in trucking fertilizer. In Kansas City it is necessary to go through eight miles of suburban district before you even get to the agriculture area. It would be quite a benefit to the farmers here to have a mixing plant.

John Patterson had talked of liquid fertilizer and H. L. Crowe, Sedalia, told of seeing men using a bulldozer on an area that was nothing but rock in Florida when he was on a vacation and, curious about it, he asked what they were doing. The man told him they planned to raise tomatoes.

"Tomatoes on those rocks?" asked the man from Missouri.

The Florida man went on to say they expected a yield of 800 bushels. They put the plants down in a hole, put in a large quantity of liquid fertilizer and later, after a certain growth, put in more fertilizer.

"If they can grow tomatoes on those rocks with fertilizer," said Mr. Crowe, "think of what could be grown on Missouri soil with fertilizer."

The men from Kansas City had not heard of the fertilizer mixing plant at Columbia or a similar one anywhere but they felt, like the Sedalia men feel, that such a plant would be of great value to the farmers of Pettis and surrounding counties.

Elevators, another problem of Pettis County farmers, the Kansas City men said, would be a good idea if they needed a place to store surpluses.

The meeting proved to be very successful from both the standpoint of getting acquainted and with suggestions and ideas exchanged on problems confronting those interested in agriculture both in the Kansas City area and Pettis County.

The victim's 3-year-old sister

Betty told police in the presence of a reporter that a "colored man" had talked to her and Judith on the street Tuesday. A neighbor said she saw two Negro gardeners who worked at the Rosenbergs talking to the children on several occasions.

The children and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Roberts, arrived Sunday night from Baltimore to their annual two weeks visit with the Rosenbergs, parents of Mrs. Roberts.

The father was on a night club tour with Mrs. Dorothy Lawrence, 21, a client and friend, when Judith Ann was kidnapped about 1 a.m. Mrs. Lawrence came to Miami with the Roberts family and said she planned to get a divorce here.

That the word "sympathizer" is not of sufficiently certain meaning to sustain a charge of perjury. The count is that Lattimore said he had never been a sympathizer whereas he had been a sympathizer. There is no definition of the term "sympathizer" or of any concrete specification of its content either in the indictment or in the statute. Without such definition or specification the term has no certain meaning."

Museum Porter Is Sentenced For Looting

LONDON (P) — Humble John Nevin, whose tiny dwelling made some of the stately homes of England look like poorly furnished barns, drew three years in prison yesterday for looting a museum of 2,000 exhibits.

Nevin, 58, had been a trusted porter at the Victoria and Albert Museum since 1930. He made $9,000 a week.

In suburban Chiswick he and his wife Mary lived in an outwardly modest four-room house which rented for 25 shillings ($3.50) a week.

But the interior, police witnesses said yesterday, was opulent beyond belief.

A beautiful piece of old Flemish tapestry was used as a bedspread. The window curtains were made of exquisite lace. The carpets and rugs were princely products of the looms of Persia and India. The tables were rare antiques. Objects d'art, jewelry, glassware and pottery stood on every shelf and in every corner.

A garbage hold 21 jeweled sword hilts and a jade figurine.

And when 54-year-old Mrs. Nevin washed the dishes, her apron was a piece of 18th-century tapestry.

Detectors said Nevin had piled up his treasure over a period of 20 years by carrying pieces home from work under his clothing. He took the antique tables apart, smuggled out the legs and tops separately and then put them together again. He wrapped the treasures and lace around his body.

Museum officials discovered the thefts during a recent inventory of their exhibits, which number about one million. They put a nominal value of 3,500 pounds ($9,000) on Nevin's loot, but said much of it was priceless and irreplacable. Said Nevin's lawyer, F. H. Lawton:

"He thought the museum didn't know how to look after the articles as well as he did. He has got this silly idea in his head that his appreciation of this kind of article is greater than that of the museum."

Sentencing of Mrs. Nevin, accused of receiving stolen goods, was deferred pending a report from a probation officer.

Responsibilities for Delinquency Lie Most With Juveniles' Parents

By EARL HOFELDT
Monterey Peninsula Herald

MONTEREY, Calif. (P) — The other day I talked with a high school freshman whose parents are members of the Late Hour and Elbow Bending Society. Jokingly, I asked: "Do you think you'll be a delinquent?"

"Well," he responded, "I've got the right background."

As everywhere else, the cause and responsibilities for delinquency lie mainly with parents. Youngsters know this, as the lad I talked with indicated clearly.

Monterey is an unusual area, in some ways. This city, and Carmel, both on the coast, are areas of expensive homes. Carmel is a widely known art colony. Monterey's population is about 20,000. Carmel's 8,000. Inland is rural King City, primarily agricultural, with 2,600 persons in the city limits.

Yet it was here that the peninsula's worst riot occurred one night last summer. It stemmed from a dispute over whether a gang of Mexican or Swiss-Italian youths had primary rights to "drag"—as they call it—the main street in their souped-up cars.

Teenage Mexicans and 31 Swiss-Italians met in a vacant lot. When it was over, one of the latter was dying of a knife wound, two others were seriously hurt. Police rounded up every youth, lectured each of them and their parents on their responsibilities. Since then, not one of the boys has been back in court.

The peninsula's over-all rate of juvenile delinquency is slightly under California's state average, well below the big metropolitan areas.

But it's climbing steadily, particularly on car thefts and burglaries.

Sophisticated Carmel has had other problems, too.

Police Chief Clyde Klaumann had to warn parents they could serve their own children drinks in their own homes—but not other people's children or well have you charged with contributing.

Betty Ann Vogelmeier Weds James Vickrey in Double Ring Ceremony

Miss Betty Ann Vogelmeier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Vogelmeier, became the bride of Mr. James Vickrey, son of Mr. Kenneth Vickrey, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon Sunday, June 20, at the Christian Church in Sweet Springs.

The Rev. Gilbert Yerian read the double ring ceremony in a chancel setting of white asters, yellow gladioli, white Majestic daisies and huckleberry against a background of white wall panels covered with white daisies, gypsophila and a trellis entwined with honeysuckle vines. Yellow and lime satin bows adorned the newel posts, piano and choir railing while Majestic daisies completed the white floor covering on the chancel floor which continued down the bridal aisle formed by white satin pew ribbons holding yellow rosebuds and white gypsophila.

Tall white tapers decorated with large satin bows and greenery in two 14-branch candelabra were lighted by Miss Marjorie Eckhoff and Miss Molly Winston, who wore matching ballerina length gowns of yellow and lime net over taffeta and wrist corsages.

As the guests assembled, Mrs. Cedric Meadow played a program of music and accompanied Mr. Clay Killion Jr., who sang "Be-cause" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over a skirt of white French faille taffeta was fashioned with a portrait neckline outlined with tiny iridescent. The snug fitting basque-type bodice of lace over white bridal satin, fastened down the back with tiny covered buttons and the long, smooth fitting sleeves tapered to points over the hands. The very long, bouffant skirt of layers of tulle over hoops and crinolines featured a deep flounce with tulle pickups around the hem outlined with iridescent.

Her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion fell from a tiny jeweled tiara and was trimmed with a lace ruffle. She carried a bouquet of white roses tied with tulle and showered with stephanotis and satin streamers.

Miss Kathryn Ann Vickrey, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. Miss Vickrey's gown of ballerina length was of white yellow satin lace and net over yellow

Air Force Seeks Cause Of Jet Crash

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Air Force investigators today sought to learn what caused a new jet plane to plunge into a residential area killing four persons and setting three houses afire.

The craft, just delivered to the Air Force, narrowly missed a nine story building in the business district, struck a tree, demolished a two story frame house and burst into flames.

After catching fire, the plane, an F8F Thunderjet, veered across a used car lot damaging about ten automobiles and smashed into another house.

The dead included the pilot, 2nd Lt. John H. Kapeles, Casper, Wyo. The other three victims were residents of the houses.

Air Force investigating teams were sent here from Bergstrom Field, Austin, Tex., Norton Field, San Bernardino, Calif., and the nearby Grandview, Mo., Air Force base.

Air Force investigating teams meeting with officials of the General Motors plant in Kansas City, Kan., where the Thunderjet was produced.

Parts of the plane were taken back to the plant for examination.

The Air Force today established a consultation office here for persons who suffered injury or damage in the accident.

Of nine persons who were injured, four remained in hospitals.

Kiwanians Hear Steele Music Club's History

Past and current history of the Helen G. Steele Music Club was the theme of an interesting talk by Mrs. E. F. Yancey before the Sedalia Kiwanis Club meeting in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon.

Mrs. Yancey is a charter member of the club and lifetime president of the music club, which she related, was organized in 1893 at the home of Helen Gallie (Mrs. Steele). She reviewed many intimate details of the club activities which have contributed so much to the cultural growth of Sedalia.

Mrs. Yancey introduced Mrs. A. H. Bratton, who sang two solos of compositions by McNair Elgenfritz, composer and former Sedalian. They were: "As We Part" and "Zephyrs."

Mrs. Edythe Ross then played her piano interpretations of the songs, and also "Hesitation Waltz."

R. E. Mullen was program chairman.

Club guests were: Kiwanian Morris J. Lent, Bonnville; Kiwanian R. E. Anderson, Salvation Army lieutenant, with A. H. Wilks; and Mrs. Lula Mullen with her husband, R. E. Mullen.

Mrs. Hubert Brown Wins Second Prize In Safeway Contest

Mrs. Hubert Brown, 1604 South Osage, was the second prize winner in the current contest sponsored by Safeway Stores, Inc. The contest was the Buick-a-Week contest which the firm was using in its advertisement of one of its products, Skylark Bread.

Mrs. Brown, known to many Sedilians as the former Mrs. H. A. Friedbach, participated in a contest for the first time in about two years. She wrote in 25 words, "Why I Like Safeway's Skylark Bread."

Mrs. Brown has won many other big prizes in past years, consequently she knew how it felt to be a winner again. During her lifetime she was written a lot of poetry and was at one time written about in "Who's Who in Poetry."

A few years ago she was awarded a trip to Texas, an all-expenses-paid trip sponsored by KDKO. A few years previous to that, she won a similar all-expenses-paid trip to the east and New York City. In 1938 she won a new Chevrolet automobile in a contest which was sponsored by the Crown Drug Co. In the last win, she came very close to winning another automobile in the Buick-a-Week contest.

Mrs. Brown will have a choice of any of the Frigidaire products: refrigerator, kitchen range, washer, dryer or deep freezer. All expenses in installation will be prepaid by Safeway.

Thorne Case Is Recessed For a Week

CHICAGO (AP) — The inquest into the mysterious death of Montgomery Ward Thorne was in recess today after Coroner Walter McCarron warned attorneys for the mother of the mail order heir to make good on promises of startling evidence.

Mrs. Marion Thorne, on the witness stand yesterday for the second straight day, testified her 20-year-old son had been blackmailed and told McCarron the identity of the person or persons "will come out and you will certainly be surprised."

However, under direct questioning, she admitted she had no direct knowledge of blackmail.

Henry Kalcheim, an attorney for Mrs. Thorne, promised a "bombshell" at resumption of the inquest next Wednesday. He said the "truth" about Thorne's death would be brought out then.

McCarron demanded that Kalcheim testify under oath about whatever information he had. Kalcheim refused on grounds of legal privilege.

Another attorney for Mrs. Thorne, Bartlett S. Marimon, said they were conducting their own investigation in connection with young Thorne's death.

"We do not have all the facts, but we will present them in good time," Marimon said.

McCarron then told Mrs. Thorne's attorneys to make good their promise to bring forth their evidence bearing on the cause of the youth's death.

Recalled to testify yesterday was Maureen Regan, 18, young Thorne's fiancee and chief beneficiary in his will to an estate estimated at nearly two million dollars.

She testified she and Thorne were to have been married in December, after his 21st birthday, because then his mother "would not be able to interfere or make trouble any more."

It was the first time that Mrs. Thorne and Miss Regan and Miss Regan's mother, Mrs. Aileen Regan, had appeared at the inquest at the same time.

Mrs. Thorne, who has denied her son was engaged to the pretty blonde Maureen, at one time in her testimony looked at the girl and her mother and said: "I'll fight each, and every one of you to the end."

Thorne, who was found dead June 19 in a $75-a-month room, had revised his will 10 days earlier, making Miss Regan and her mother principal beneficiaries, and cutting his mother's share to one eighth. Mrs. Thorne was chief beneficiary under a will drawn up when her son was 18.

Miss Regan repeated earlier testimony that she did not know Thorne had revised his will and left her one half his estate. She also testified Thorne always was short of funds, that he complained he did not get along with his mother and that his mother did not love him.

Early Start Is Seen

KANSAS CITY (AP) — An early start is expected on the proposed Trans World Airlines overhaul base at the new Mid-Continent International Airport in Platte County.

The City Council yesterday accepted a bid of $18,264,290 for an $18,700,000 revenue bond issue. The bid was made by Stern Brothers & Co. of Kansas City.

Pavement Is Smeared With Red Lipstick

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The harbor freeway was smeared with red after a panel truck went out of control yesterday and rolled three times.

But it wasn't blood and the driver was only slightly hurt. Max Factor Co. said the load of lipstick in the truck was worth $10,000.

US Attache Leaves Russia; Was Expelled

The attache was accompanied by his wife and two children. A big crowd of Americans and other members of Moscow's foreign colony saw them off at Vnukovo Airport.

Felchlin and Maj. Walter McKinney, assistant air attache, were declared persona non grata ("unwelcome") by the Soviets for "activities inconsistent with their positions as military attaches."

McKinney already is abroad and will not return.

Last March the two men were accused in a letter published in Trud, Soviet trade union paper, of espionage while on a trip through Siberia.

The State Department denied the charges against the two U.S. attaches. The Soviet move apparently was in retaliation for the expulsion of two Russian Embassy attaches and a member of the Soviet U.N. delegation from the United States for "espionage and improper activities."

Australia Still Tries Stopping China in UN

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — Prime Minister R. G. Menzies said today there has been no change in Australia's opposition to the admission of Communist China to the United Nations.

Menzies was commenting at a press conference on New Zealand Foreign Minister Clifton Webb's statement that the time has arrived to bring the Chinese Reds into the United Nations.

Menzies said there had been no change in the attitude he expressed last September when he said: "I do not discuss recognition of my enemy while I am in the field with them. The problem of Communist China does not arise at this moment."

Menzies repeated earlier testimony that she did not know Thorne had revised his will and left her one half his estate. She also testified Thorne always was short of funds, that he complained he did not get along with his mother and that his mother did not love him.

Painless Dentist Drill

NEW YORK (AP) — A new supersonic dental drill, claimed to be virtually painless and almost noiseless, may be available in dentists' offices within several years.

The device, shaped like a miniature riveting machine, was demonstrated yesterday at the Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center.

The actual drilling is done by an abrasive liquid dripped to the edge of the drill, which vibrates at 29,000 times per second.

Commercial production of the new tool is at least a year away, and dental schools and clinics will get it first.

The City Council yesterday accepted a bid of $18,264,290 for an $18,700,000 revenue bond issue. The bid was made by Stern Brothers & Co. of Kansas City.

Fires Teacher For Past C.P. Membership

WAYLAND, Mass. (AP) — Miss Anne Hale Jr., 46, who claims she is a descendant of Pilgrim John Alden, has been fired as a public school teacher for having held membership in the Communist party.

The School Committee voted 2-1 to fire her last night. The dissenting vote was cast by Chairman William A. Waldron, who immediately announced his resignation as chairman until after the town elections next March.

The second-grade teacher, under suspension since last spring, was charged with being unfit to teach, conduct unbecoming a schoolteacher and membership in the Communist party.

Her attorney, Oliver S. Allen, said he has not decided yet what future action he will take in Miss Hale's behalf.

Waldron said he would have voted for Miss Hale's dismissal if her refusal to answer questions if her refusal to answer questions if her one of the charges, but he said the charges against her were not substantiated during a series of public hearings last month.

His committee colleagues — Cornelius J. Maguire and Harvey C. Newton — noted that the Communist doctrine favors overthrow of the United States government.

"We cannot believe that Miss Hale in her years of activity in the Communist party did not learn this doctrine or hear it advocated or know of the distribution of literature advocating it."

Miss Hale admitted she was a Communist from 1945 to the latter part of 1950 but said she never advocated the overthrow of the government by force and violence.

At the time of her suspension Miss Hale sent the following letter to the parents of the 28 children in her class with a request that it be read to the youngsters:

"Dear children: 'Your family will tell you that different people have different ideas about how the country should be run.'

"I have been working for a long time in the best way I know to make sure that the liberty and justice for all of which we speak every morning, is always with us, and that it will grow better."

"Those who don't agree with me may say harsh things."

"Just remember these things, which I am sure you know — I love my country and I love you."

Second Guided Missile Squadron to Germany

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force plans to send to Germany this fall a second squadron of about 600 officers and men equipped with Matador guided missiles.

The first pilotless bomber squadron went to Germany in March, and is stationed at Bitburg. The Air Force announcement last night did not say where the second will be based. It is the 69th Squadron, commanded by Lt. Col. Richard W. Maffry of Kirkville, Mo., and now is training at Patrick Air Force Base, Fla.

The Matador, powered by turbojet engines, has a range of between 500 and 1,000 miles. It is capable of carrying an atomic warhead.

Protests Criticism Of Oil Policies

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — The Iranian Foreign Ministry has protested to the Soviet Embassy against a Pravda attack on Iranian oil policies.

The protest said the Iranian government was striving to remove differences between Iran and the Soviet Union and that the Soviet government should not permit an official newspaper to publish "such an insulting article."

Pravda had said: "Aggressive plans of the United States are intended to 'regain domination of foreign oil companies and drag Iran into the aggressive bloc of the Middle East and Near East."

British Paratroopers See Malaya Action

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (AP) — Two hundred British paratroopers were dropped east of Ipoh, Malaya's chief tin-mining center, today in a drive against Chinese Communist terrorist gangs operating in that area.

It was the biggest air operation of the six-year Malayan war against the Red guerrillas.

Giants Have 5½-Game Lead Now

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

The New York Giants, rolling along at a phenomenal .861 pace since June 3, hold the biggest lead any Giant team has enjoyed past the midseason mark in 18 years.

Not since Sept. 25, 1936, when the Giants led the Chicago Cubs by seven games, has a Giant club led by more than the current 5½-game margin over the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The 1936 Giants went on to win the pennant by five games. Since then they have won two pennants—in 1937 and 1951. Their biggest margin in 1937 was 4½ games. In 1951, they didn't grab exclusive possession of first place until after the first postseason playoff game with the Dodgers.

Last night the Giants not only captured their 31st victory in the last 37 games but made it five in a row over Brooklyn with a resounding 10-2 triumph. They walloped four home runs, scored four runs in each of the first and fifth innings and whipped Don Newcombe for the first time at Ebbets Field since the big Negro right-hander joined the Dodgers in 1949.

To rub it in, Jim Hearn, the Giants' right-hander, went the route only for the second time this season and registered his first Ebbets Field triumph since July 3, 1952.

Willie Mays, Monte Irvin, Wes Westrum and Alvin Dark smacked the homers. Gil Hodges got one for the Dodgers. It was No. 28 for Mays, tops in both leagues.

Cleveland's Indians drubbed the Baltimore Orioles 6-1 for their 10th victory in the last 11 games. All the Indian runs came in the second inning.

The New York Yankees trounced the Boston Red Sox 17-9, remaining 3½ games behind first-place Cleveland. Chicago's White Sox, struggling to stay within reach of the Indians, shut out Detroit 9-0 behind the four-hit pitching of Don Johnson.

Milwaukee's Braves nipped the Chicago Cubs 1-0 as Chet Nichols outlasted Howie Pollet in a south-paw duel. Dan n y O'Connell's seven-inning single followed by Jim Pendleton's double accounted for the lone run.

Peanuts' pinch single with the bases loaded and two out in the 11th gave the St. Louis Cardinals their second straight victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs, 5-4. Rain washed out the scheduled twight double-header between Pittsburgh and the Phillies in Philadelphia. Washington and the Philadelphia Athletics were not scheduled.

The Yankees enjoyed their most productive day of the season, pounding four Boston pitchers for 17 hits in a game that was halted in the eighth inning by rain. Yogi Berra drove in five runs with a triple and homer and Irvin Noren took over the American League batting lead with four hits in five times at bat.

The Indians combined three hits, a sacrifice fly and four walks by Bob Turley to score all their runs in the second inning as Mike Garcia registered his 11th triumph. Bobby Avila's two-run double was the key blow.

The White Sox smashed 16 hits, including a home run by Ron Jackson, the 6-foot-7 20-year-old bonus first baseman.

College All-Stars May Have Advantage Over Professionals

CHICAGO (AP) — This year's all-star football game may find the collegians with an advantage to offset the pro champions' usually-superior organization.

It's a combination of the stars' own versatility and a rule that will prohibit the pro Detroit Lions from making their customary use every occasion.

The 21st annual charity classic at Chicago's Soldier Field Aug. 13 will be played under the limited substitution rule to which the collegians returned last season. In the 20 previous games, the pros won 12 and the All Stars six. There were two ties.

Maryland's Jim Tatum, who'll head the all-star coaching staff, certainly isn't overlooking the opportunity presented by the rule as he rounds up the talent he will put into training at Purdue University July 23. Though only half completed, the 1954 assemblage of college greats appears to be the most versatile ever.

For instance Lamar McHan, one of the stars' multi-talented backs, earned all-Southwest Conference honors as both a T quarterback and a single wing tailback at Arkansas.

Expecting to select a squad of about 50, Tatum to date has named 28 all-stars, including end Gary Knaefel, Colorado; guard Bob Hansta, Kansas; and halfback Verry Switzer, Kansas State.

14 Money Men Have Interest in Securing Major Team for Texas

DALLAS (AP) — Fourteen wealthy men interested in Dallas spending $7,000,000 for a major league ball club and air-conditioned stadium will decide today whether to promote the project.

E. (Buddy) Fogelson, Dallas Independent oil man and husband of movie actress Greer Garson and who represents the budding syndicate, said major league franchises were obtainable but that his group would not go after one without the endorsement of Dallas civic and business leaders.

Whether that endorsement will be forthcoming will be determined today in meetings of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce and Dallas Citizens Council.

With such endorsement, the group will offer stock for sale to transportation facilities, hotels, stores, restaurants and other lines of business that would profit by a major league franchise operating here, said Fogelson.

Fogelson said in the event major league baseball is brought to Dallas, the Dallas Texas League stadium could be enlarged from 10,000 to 35,000 capacity. Fogelson added that air conditioning would be installed so the fans would be cooler at the ball park than at guards.

Grid Rule Will Meet Strict Enforcement By NCAA Top Men

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Strict enforcement of the rule outlawing the "sucker shift" in college football was endorsed yesterday by the National Assn. of Collegiate Commissioners.

The commissioners are holding their annual convention here. They discussed several violations and problems resulting from "false starts" on the part either of backfield men in motion, centers or guards.

Expecting to select a squad of about 50, Tatum to date has named 28 all-stars, including end Gary Knaefel, Colorado; guard Bob Hansta, Kansas; and halfback Verry Switzer, Kansas State.

Fans at the Little League Stadium Wednesday night saw Kiwanis edge the Elks, 8-7, and Nicky Nichols and Rotary beat the Jaycees, 14-13.

The first game finished close as the Kiwanis team won the extra inning encounter by scoring two runs in the seventh as the Elks had scored one in the top of the same inning. Shelby and Snow led the Elks in hitting, each getting two hits. Ray left fielder for the winning Kiwanians, led the visitors' hitting attack with two doubles. Garrison was the loser for Elks, Watson the winner.

The second game saw Nicky Nichols pitch a fine game as he went the entire contest to give his team another win. Nichols had ten strikeouts while issuing the same number of hits. His team gave him fine support all the way and, as in the first game of the evening, the Rotarians won the game in the seventh inning as Benner scored the winning run. Tim Morgan was the leading slugger for Rotary in getting the only two hits for the winners. The majority of players on the Rotary team scored at least one run, with Nichols, Benner, Tim Morgan and Zey scoring twice.

There are some basic rights that can't be ignored if the people of this nation are to remain free. One of these is the Right to Work regardless of membership or non-membership in an organization. That right is synonymous with freedom of the individual.

If men can be forced to become members of a labor organization against their will in order to make a living in their chosen occupation, then they are no longer free men. Compulsory membership is repugnant to every tradition of our free way of life. As men are protected in their right to JOIN a labor organization, so must they be protected in the right NOT to join!

THESE ARE EQUAL RIGHTS WHICH THE LAW SHOULD EQUALLY PROTECT! — THIS IS A PLEA TO LET THE VOTER DECIDE THE ISSUE AT THE POLL!

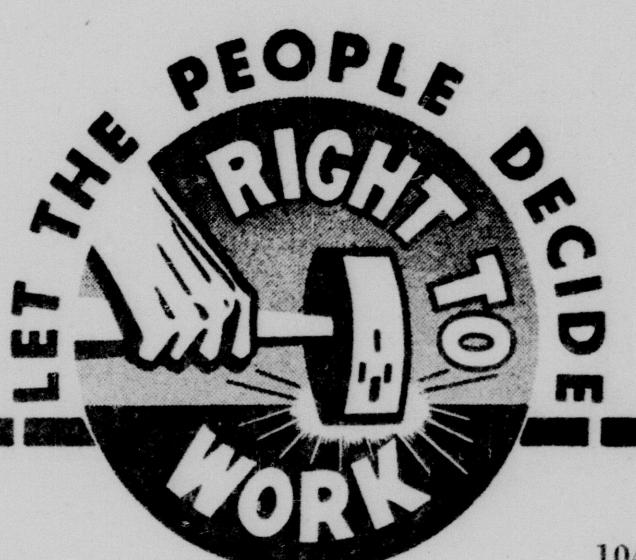

THE TIME TO ACT IS NOW

Let every Missouri citizen who really believes in personal freedom support this effort! A Right-to-Work Law will: 1. Protect your Right to Work regardless of your membership or non-membership in a labor organization. 2. Prohibit actions and agreements requiring compulsory membership in a labor organization or paying of dues against your will, or paying tribute as a condition of employment. Insist that your legislators give you the opportunity to vote on this RIGHT-TO-WORK LAW. Let the people decide!

MISSOURI STATE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

To Protect Your Freedom as an Individual Missouri Needs a Right-to-Work Law

We recognize and approve the right of individuals to band themselves together to promote their well-being by voluntary unionism, or for any other lawful purpose. This is a right firmly established by law and the Right-to-Work Law will specifically protect this right. We support this right fully. However, individuals must also be protected against COMPULSION . . . against being forced to join a labor organization or to pay tribute for the privilege of working at their chosen occupation. Payment of tribute for the privilege of working is a violation of American Freedom. So, in seeking a Right-to-Work Law, we are fighting COERCION AND COMPULSION. This is a plea for the right of every man to decide for himself a matter that affects his convictions and his livelihood.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. — The state service officer is making a "relatively good year" in 1953 for illness and death from communicable diseases, the annual report of City Health Commissioner J. Earl Smith showed today.

Vision Tests Urged

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — The Minnesota Optometric Assn. was told today that their licenses are renewed.

It is preposterous to assume a driver's vision is the same at age

60 or 70 as it was when he got his first license as a young man," Dr. Samuel Brown, first vice president of the American Optometric Assn., said.

Seeks Release From Life Term For Kidnapping

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Echoes of the notorious Barker-Karpis gang are resounding in a federal courtroom here today as Volney Davis seeks freedom from a life sentence for his part in the kidnapping of Edward G. Bremer, a St. Paul brewer.

Davis, now a slim and white-haired 52, was brought here from Leavenworth Penitentiary to present his case before Judge Gunnar H. Nordoye. He has been in prison, first at Alcatraz and then at the Kansas institution, ever since he was sentenced after pleading guilty June 3, 1935. His charges he was denied the services of an attorney.

On the law-enforcement side, another famous name—Melvin Purvis—is listed among the government's 30 witnesses. Purvis, then FBI agent in charge of the Chicago office, and his men captured Davis

June 1, 1935.

Purvis gained earlier and more lasting fame when he and his agents shot down John Dillinger, another headliner of the gangster era, outside a Chicago theater.

On the stand all day yesterday, Davis told how he grew up in his native Oklahoma with Fred and Doc Barker. Later, when the Barkers joined Alvin Karpis in a wave of crime that claimed headlines throughout the 1920s and early 1930s, Davis said he went along.

"The Barkers spent thousands of dollars in 1932 to get me out of a life term for murder in Oklahoma," the witness said. "After that I traveled with them and they supplied me with money." But I didn't know their business."

Records disclose the Barker-Karpis boys were responsible for slayings, bank robberies, holdups and other crimes in a dozen states. The spree ended when Bremer was snatched from a St. Paul street, with a $200,000 ransom paid for his release.

Davis claimed to have known nothing of the kidnapping and said he entered his plea of guilty to it only because he feared he would be returned to Oklahoma to finish out his term.

The witness said that after June 3 he was denied food and shackled in solitary confinement until his sentencing four days later.

But Alex Dim, assistant U.S. district attorney, drew from him an admission that he had been permitted to consult an attorney regarding disposition of the car he owned in Kansas City during the time he alleged he was held in solitary. The government also introduced evidence that newspaper reporters were allowed to interview the prisoner during that period.

Regarding a 10-page statement Davis signed on the kidnapping, he said, "I was so scared I would have signed anything." He vigorously disputed the government's claim that he knew what he was doing at the time.

Doesn't Take Much For Car Mishap

MALONE, N.Y. (AP)—James Hughes, 31, told his grandmother, Mrs. Carl Ornstedt, he "lost control for a minute" when he took the family's new automobile for a joyride.

The car went down the driveway and across the road, sideswiped a neighbor's garage, circled back onto the Ornstedt lawn and struck a tree. The car damage was estimated at $300.

Young Hughes, who had learned how to shift the car gears, promised never to touch the keys again.

Air Force Medicine School Is Cancelled

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Plans for an $8,000,000 school of aviation medicine at Brooks Air Force Base here have been canceled, Col. James Lang of the U.S. District Engineers office at Galveston said last night.

Lang said his instructions were to cancel the contract with an Austin, Tex., architectural firm which was designated last January to draw up plans and specifications on the project.

"They may have shifted it to some other location," Lang added.

Father Loses Battle With Fire as Wife And Three Tots Die

WAUKESHA, Wis. (AP)—Robert Kneiss awoke last night, smelled smoke and rushed into the living room where his wife Madeline had been resting on a couch. He found her covered with flames.

He tried to drag her from the house, but failed. Neither could he reach the bedroom where his three small children were sleeping.

Driven back by smoke and flames, he ran to summon a neighbor, and he and the neighbor chopped a hole in the wall of the children's bedroom. They brought out two of the children, Mary, 3, and Margaret, 2, but were unable to find Robert Jr., 6.

Firemen later recovered the bodies of the 35-year-old mother and her son.

The two small girls were dead on arrival at a Milwaukee hospital.

Fire Chief Franklin Wirth said the fire apparently started in the couch in the living room.

New Mechanism Foils Japanese Cabbies

TOKYO (AP)—A Japanese Ruben Goldberg has come to the aid of distraught taxi fleet operators who have been powerless to prevent cab drivers from siphoning off a major share of the profits.

By failing to turn on the meter when a passenger enters the cab, the driver gets the fee himself. To prevent this, an ingenious inventor has created a device which works thus:

1. Passenger enters cab and sits on seat, thereby pressing button under seat.

2. Button under seat lights sign on roof of cab which says cab is occupied and meter should be operating.

3. Button under seat turns on counter which checks distance traveled between time man sits down and meter is turned on.

To the disgust of the taxi drivers, more than 2,000 of these devices are on order with the inventor-manufacturer.

Hoffman Resigns Post Due to Labor Dispute

SAARBRUECKEN, Saarland (AP)—Premier Johannes Hoffmann's coalition government resigned after a dispute over labor legislation last night but Hoffmann was expected to form a new cabinet soon made up only of members of his Christian People's party.

The Premier's party has a majority in the 50-member Parliament with 29 seats but had included the Socialists in the governing coalition.

The two factions split when the Socialists abstained from voting for a new workers law put forward by the Christian People's group. The Premier then said he could see no basis for continuing the coalition.

No Fire, Man Just Needs Their Ladder

CHICAGO (AP)—Fire engines sped to a South Side home yesterday in response to an alarm and the firemen found Clifton Gooch, 38, waiting for them.

"There's no fire, boys," Gooch told the firemen. "But I need one of your long ladders. I live on the third floor and lost my keys."

Gooch, a cook, was arrested for turning in a false alarm and for disorderly conduct. He was fined $10 and costs on each charge.

A Homing Oriole?

BALLSTON SPA, N.Y. (AP)—Life in the wild is not for Tweeter, the pet oriole of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Zeeb.

The Zeebs let the bird out for daily flights. An hour or so later, a pecking at the back door lets them know the bird wants to come in.

The Zeebs found the oriole in a field about a year ago, apparently after it fell from its nest.

Control of House Flies

Use Malathion as Bait Spray

Several folks have been asking for the best recommendations on the control of house flies. Malathion is giving good results as a bait spray.

Melon Cottage Cheese Salad

On lettuce-lined plates place peeled cantaloupe halves filled with cottage cheese or surround a mound of cottage cheese with assorted chilled melon balls or fingers.

Cantaloupe Preserves

(A good topping for Ice Cream)

1 Cup sugar
1/2 cup water
1 cantaloupe
1/2 lemon

1. Dissolve sugar in water and bring to a boil.

2. Slice the lemon very thin and cut the slices into halves or quarters; add to boiling syrup.

3. Peel cantaloupe and cut into small pieces; add to syrup and boil until clear.

Beet or Cane Sugar for Jelly?

Sometimes sugar gets the blame when there is a jelly failure. Let us not blame the sugar as it has been proven time and time again that either beet or cane sugar may be used successfully to make jams or jellies.

There are, however, several good reasons for jelly failure. Some of these are (1) tough jelly when too much sugar is used in proportion to the amount of pectin in the juice and (2) boiling the mixture too long.

5. Be careful not to contaminate livestock or poultry feed, or water with the mixture. Also malathion can be used to soak window shade cord for roosting baits.

Prepare as follows:

1. Use equal parts 50 per cent malathion concentrate and corn syrup.

2. Soak cords in this mixture for 12-24 hours, then let drain for 2 hours.

3. Tack cords to ceilings of rooms.

4. Such cords will kill flies for about 2-3 weeks.

Formalin is the Safest Bait

Use 1 tablespoon of 40 per cent Formalin in a mixture of 1 pint of water and 1 pint of milk. Put mixture in shallow pans in breeding areas where flies are breeding. KEEP AWAY FROM PETS AND CHILDREN. Replace the bait each day.

Cantaloupe

Cantaloupes are a good source of Vitamin C, and those with deep salmon colored flesh are extremely good sources of Vitamin A. A half cantaloupe, 5 inches in diameter, will contribute about as much Vitamin C as a half cup of orange juice and, with a deep color, it will contribute about as much Vitamin A as a half cup of shredded carrots. This is more than the recommended daily allowance of Vitamin A for an average person.

There are many varieties of cantaloupe — the most popular being those with salmon colored meat. Top quality cantaloupes are sweet, fine textured, and have a pungent flavor and fragrance.

When a cantaloupe is mature and ready for harvest, it separates from the vine with slight pressure. When a melon reaches this stage it is said to be at "full slip." As the melon is separated from the vine it leaves a slightly sunken, smooth, well-calloused scar at the stem end. If there is a jagged scar, or a bit of the stem attached at the stem end of a cantaloupe, it indicates that the melon was probably picked before it was mature ripened on the vine. Cantaloupes do not develop additional sugar after they are picked, although they may soften.

The netting on a good quality, well-ripened, cantaloupe, is well raised, coarse, corky, and grayish in color. The webbing (netting) is well developed and stands out in bold relief over the entire surface of the melon. The background between the netting is light in color.

Cantaloupes are any-time-of-day food. They fit into noon and eve-

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor
From Lakeland, Fla., Sue and Tom of pie plate. Mix together Paul Patterson give us two un-gelatin and $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of the sugar usual recipes using fresh limes in top of double boiler. Beat egg Florida produces half a million yolks slightly; stir in water and boxes of limes every year—seed-lime juice. Add to gelatin mix less shiny green blessings for taste.

Heavenly Lime Pie
(Yield: 1 9-inch pie)

Twelve lady fingers, 1 envelope is slightly thickened. Add lime unflavored gelatin, 1 cup sugar, rind. Chill until mixture is slightly divided, 5 eggs, separated, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup thicker than the consistency of water, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup lime juice, 1 tea-unbeaten egg white. Beat egg whites until stiff, but no "dry".

For lady finger pie shell, split. Gradually add remaining $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of lady fingers; stand, cut side Fold egg yolk mixture into egg shell, around edge of 9-inch pie whites. Carefully pie into eggshell. (Mixture should be thick enough to hold its shape.) Chill until firm. If desired, garnish with whipped cream.

Lamb Kebabs in Lime Marinade
(Yield: 6 servings)

Two pounds boned lamb shoulder, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup salad oil, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup Florida lime juice, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon thyme, 1 bay leaf, $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon basil, $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon rosemary, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt, $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon pepper, 1 medium onion, chopped, 2 medium onions, sliced, 1 green pepper, sliced, 1-ounce can mushrooms, drained. Have lamb shoulder cut in 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ -inch cubes. Blend salad oil, lime juice, seasonings and chopped onion in bowl. Add lamb cubes; let stand 5 hours, or overnight. Drain. Cut onions in $\frac{1}{4}$ -inch slices and green pepper in $\frac{1}{4}$ -inch rings. Alternate cubes of lamb on skewers with onion slices, mushrooms and pepper rings. Preheat broiler 10 minutes; place kebabs on rack 3 inches from heat, broil about 20 minutes, turning once.

Meanwhile, unemployment was estimated to have risen by no more than 42,000 during the month from May to June and unemployment, contrary to the usual seasonal pattern, showed almost no increase. Employment rose during the month, according to a joint announcement by the Department of Commerce and the Department of Labor, from 61,119,000 in early June.

The Commerce Department said this was in "sharp contrast" to experience over the past 14 years since 1940 when, according to its figures, unemployment increased from May to June by from 150,000 in 1943 to as much as 595,000 in 1947.

IT'S ALMOST UNBELIEVABLE HOW MUCH BETTER YOUR JAMS WILL BE!

YOU'LL SOON SEE how you use the original uncooked jam recipes developed exclusively by M.C.P. JAM AND JELLY PECTIN! This way, jams have ALL the fresh fruit flavor (and color)...not just "more of it"...for nothing is cooked or boiled away. For the same reason, you use less fruit and sugar, yet get more jam—4 pints from 4 cups of fruit! And how nice not to have to work over a hot stove! Try the uncooked PEACH JAM recipe (below)...you'll be glad you did!

HERE'S THE RECIPE:

1. Pit or slice and grind fine enough peaches to make 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ level cups ground. Put in 2 or 4 qt. kettle and at once add 1 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup lemon juice (to prevent darkening or "pre-setting"). Sift in 31 $\frac{1}{2}$ -oz. package M.C.P. JAM AND JELLY PECTIN (no other will do), stirring vigorously. Set aside 30 minutes, stirring occasionally to dissolve pectin fully.

2. Add 1 cup light corn syrup. Mix well.

3. Measure exactly 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ level cups beer or cane sugar into dry dish; gradually stir into ground fruit. Warming to 100°F. (temperature for baby's milk) will hasten sugar dissolving. No hotter, please!

4. When sugar is dissolved, jam is ready to eat. Makes 4 full pints.

5. Because these are uncooked jams, never store them on pantry shelf. They won't keep without refrigeration. To keep for a month or more, chill for 24 hours in deep freeze, or freezing or ice cube compartment of refrigerator. Then, store as you would milk and use as desired. To make large amounts at one time and keep them for a long period, storage in deep freeze (10° below to 20° above zero) is needed.

IMPORTANT! Complete recipes for both cooked and uncooked jams are now being packed in the M.C.P. PECTIN package. If recipe folder you get does NOT include those for uncooked jams, write M.C.P. Co., Anaheim, Calif., and they'll send promptly.

Stone For Chapel

RINDGE, N. H.—A piece of Ireland's famed Blarney Stone is among stones from many nations that form the altar at the Cathedral of the Pines here. The cathedral, an open air sanctuary amid pines on a New Hampshire hillside is a memorial to all soldiers who died in World War II.

Douglas Sloan, who founded the nonsectarian cathedral after the death of his Air Force son, Lt. Sanderston Sloan, received the Blarney Stone fragment from J. W. Chapman, of Lynn, Mass.

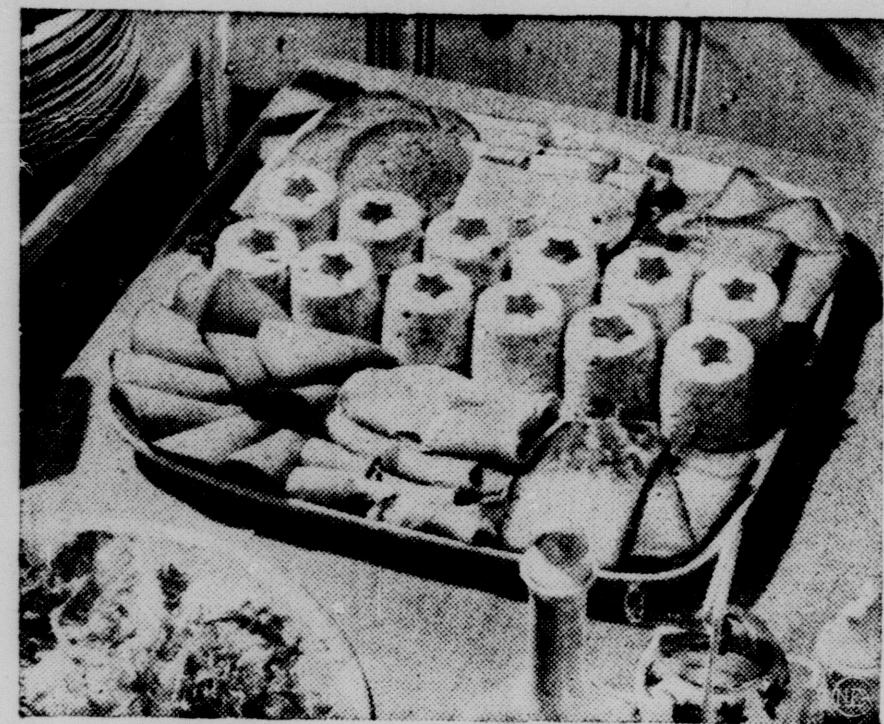

It had been in the Chapman family for 100 years. In the 1850s a boy from Ireland crossing the Atlantic fell overboard and was rescued by Chapman's ancestors.

In gratitude the lad gave his rescuer his most prized possession, the piece chipped from the Blarney Stone.

The Blarney Stone is now guarded so that souvenir seekers can no longer take any of it.

Tasty Relish Molds Add Flavor to Cold-Cut Meals

INDIVIDUAL RELISH MOLDS and cold cuts make a perfect summertime main dish.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

This is the cold cut season. To make those time—saving meals taste even better, a young friend of ours in New York has invented a new form of pickle relish to serve with them. We think you'll enjoy these relish molds of fresh vegetables, olives and tangy seasonings.

Individual Relish Molds
(Yield: 12 servings)
Two envelopes unflavored gelatin, 1 cup cold water, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup mayonnaise, 1 cup sour cream, 2 tablespoons prepared mustard, 1/4 teaspoon Tabasco, 1 tablespoon grated onion, 1/2 ounce jar pickle relish, 1/2 cup diced green pepper, 1/2 cup diced celery, 1/2 cup diced onions, 1/4 cup chopped stuffed olives.

Sprinkle gelatin on cold water to soften. Place over boiling water and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Add salt; cool. Combine mayonnaise, sour cream, prepared mustard and Tabasco; gradually add gelatin mixture, stirring until blended. Mix in remaining ingredients. Turn into 12 individual molds; chill until firm. Serve with assorted cold cuts.

While on the subject of gelatin molded foods for summer, here's a recipe for delicate individual chicken molds.

Chicken Salad Molds
(Yield: 6 servings)
One envelope unflavored gelatin, 1/4 cup cold chicken stock or

Credit to Those Working to Carry Out Ideals of Founding Fathers

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Now that the Fourth-of-July oratory has subsided and congress has gone back to work, it might be a good idea to look around and see who is carrying out the ideals of the founding fathers that we heard so much about this week.

Here are a few people I would like to nominate as trying to carry out these ideals. They are not big-name people. They are little people who deserve just as much credit as the glamor-pusses and the politicians.

Patriotic Printer—Take, for instance, August Dietz, Jr., the Richmond, Va., printer who has now printed more than 3,000,000 copies of the Declaration of Independence and circulated them through the schools of the U.S.A.

Two years ago, after the Madison Capitol Times in Wisconsin and the New Orleans Item in Louisiana circulated copies of the Declaration of Independence and the Bill of Rights through crowds of people which refused to sign them because they thought the documents "looked Russian," I suggested to Gus Dietz that we might print and circulate copies of the Declaration of Independence so people could get to understand it.

Since that time he has printed more than 3,000,000 copies, frequently at a loss to himself, and the Sertoma Clubs (service to mankind) have helped distribute them. Others, including the Elks of Boulder, Colo., the Boy Scouts, and the Jefferson Life Insurance Company, have also helped.

Printer Dietz, who has been quite ill for a year, says he has now recovered almost to the point where he can undertake to circulate the Bill of Rights also, and I sincerely hope this may take place soon.

Patriotic Coal Miner—Most people have never heard of R. M. Davis outside of Morgantown, W. Va. He began life driving a mule in a coal mine, now owns his own mine which, incidentally, has one of the best safety records in West Virginia. Not content with that he has given a $300,000 youth recreation center to Morgantown, and more recently has been pushing the idea of creating a department of peace.

It's Mr. Davis's idea that our diplomats frequently get so bogged down in treaty-writing and protocol that they miss the main goal of peace. And, since it's the people who have to fight the wars, argues Mr. Davis, it should be the people who should have a large share in working for peace. He proposes a special governmental department with the job of doing nothing except concentrating on peace.

Balloons Behind Curtain—Meanwhile, one group which already has started to carry out Mr. Davis's idea is the Crusade for Freedom. Three years ago the crusade picked up my idea of sending balloon messages behind the Iron Curtain and together we put across the first balloon barrage of freedom-friendship messages to the Czechoslovak people—a total of 11,000,000 messages.

Again in May the crusade launched another message barrage just before the Czech elections. This time the balloons delivered sample ballots outlining 10 points for freedom, plus stickers to be pasted on the ballots instead of the stereotyped rubber-stamp Communist party candidates. The balloons, dropped mysteriously from the skies, had such an effect on the Czech population that the Communist government officially protested to the United States.

Lions Clubs—Meeting in New York right now is the international convention of one of the liveliest service clubs in America. As a matter of fact, the Lions have come not from the U.S.A. alone but from 58 different countries, not to discuss business and political problems but how to make the world a better place to live in and achieve the great goal of peace.

Scholarships—Another service club which has done a fine job in promoting peace is Rotary. Their scholarship exchange between foreign countries has helped supplement the Fulbright scholarships under the Smith-Mundt Act which have done more to build up American friendship than almost anything else. Today, however, short-sighted Republican leaders in the house of representatives want to cut the scholarships to the bone.

Dean Erwin Griswold of the Harvard Law School—In these days when congressional investigations have tended to make us forget the liberties inherited from the founding fathers, Dean Griswold spelled out, with painstaking care, the background of the most controversial part of the Bill of Rights—the fifth amendment.

Though held up to ridicule by Senator McCarthy, Dean Griswold has shown how the Fifth Amendment was woven into the fundamental rights of the nation, going back even to the 17th century when it was used to prevent self-incrimination by torture. He has also shown how the much-maligned Fifth Amendment protects against the seizure of private property and double jeopardy.

Valued Liberties

Illustrating the not easy battle our forefathers fought to obtain these liberties, Dean Griswold quotes from the trial of William Bradford, the man who first introduced printing to Pennsylvania and who printed copies of the charter of the province so people could see what their rights were. Hauled before the council of Pennsylvania by the governor in 1689, here is a transcript of the William Bradford trial:

Bradford—"It was by Governor Penn's encouragement I came to the province, and by his license I print."

Governor—"What sir, had you license to print the charter? I desire to know from you, whether you did print the charter or not?"

Bradford—"It is an impractical thing for a man to accuse himself; thou know very well."

Governor—"Well I shall not much press you to it, but if you were so ingenuous as to confess, it should go the better with you."

Bradford—"Governour, I desire to know my accusers; I think it very hard to be put upon accusing myself."

Governor—"Can you deny that you printed it? I do know that you did print it and by whose directions, and will prove it, and make me smart for it too, since you are so stubborn."

John Hill—"I am informed that one hundred and sixty were printed yesterday, and that Jos. Growden saith he gave 20 S for his part towards the printing of it."

Bradford—"It's nothing to me what Jos. Growden saith. Let me know my accusers, and I

Peter Edson's Column— Pump Priming Thumbed Out As Unemployment Relief

By Peter Edson

WASHINGTON—The Eisenhower administration has definitely rejected "pump priming" as a device to relieve U. S. unemployment.

President Eisenhower indicated this course of action in his March 24 press conference statement that no "slam bang" emergency program is needed. Developments since that time have confirmed the administration belief that indirect methods of bolstering the U. S. economy are better than government relief of any kind.

What this means is that the pleas made by AFL President George Meany, CIO President Walter Reuther, Harvard Economist Sumner Slichter, Democratic Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois and others for a federal government action program to relieve unemployment are going to be ignored.

The political implications of this decision are summed up in a belief that while bad employment conditions make it possible to lose an election, good employment conditions, by themselves, can't win the coming November elections.

There is plenty of optimism in Washington for an October pickup in business. One indication of this is found in the Federal Reserve action, reducing bank reserve requirements and providing more credit for the normal fall harvest and crop movement.

There is also a prevalent feeling that all the pump priming of the Roosevelt era really did no good. What pulled the country out of the depression, it is explained, was the war spending.

What the country has been going through in the past year, according to the Republican point of view, is a shift from an inflationary war economy back to more normal peacetime business.

Government spending has been cut back by $10 billion. Over $7 billion of this has been returned to the civilian economy in the form of tax cuts.

The idea of making up the difference of $3 billion by a government spending program has been rejected. It is felt that to do so would cut back private spending by that amount and so delay recovery.

It is admitted that government buying can't be stopped without causing some unemployment. The explanation is that, "We did this to ourselves," as a necessary readjustment. The problem is analyzed as how fast people can be put back to work on civilian goods production after cutting government defense spending.

While it is felt that the government might impede this recovery by doing the wrong thing, there is little that can be done by the government directly to speed it up. An inflationary spending program at this time is given as an example of a wrong action.

This philosophy puts entire reliance for the government's recovery program on indirect aids to the economy. Among the steps that the administration has taken in this direction are the removal of price and wage controls to free the economy for expansion, stabilization of the dollar, tax cuts and the tax reform bill passed by the House and now before the Senate.

The idea of increasing personal exemptions for federal individual income taxes, as a means of providing more money for spending and so relieving unemployment, is still flatly rejected. On the other hand, particular emphasis is placed on the advisability of reducing taxes on dividends as a stimulus to investment and business expansion. This is regarded as the best way to create new employment.

Public works that contribute to America's productive capacity are not to be frowned on, if and when there is enough money to finance them. It is the "leaf-ranking" type of government aid program to relieve unemployment that is rejected.

The seriousness of unemployment to workers without jobs—now numbering over three million—seems to be fully recognized. But there appears to be no inclination on the part of administration leaders to remedy the situation by direct government spending.

Woman Who Can't Say 'No' Is In for Cluttered-Up Life

By Ruth Millet

Let's call her Mrs. Brown, though she might be you or your next-door neighbor.

She leads a cluttered-up existence because she is so afraid of the word "No."

Instead of a flat "No" to an unreasonable demand her children get a half-hearted "Maybe" or a weary "We'll see" and with that much to go on they tease and beg until Mrs. Brown has to give in to their demands.

Mrs. Brown belongs to several organizations that she knows aren't worth the time and effort they demand from her for the simple reason that when someone insisted that she join she felt she couldn't say "No."

The Browns' social life is as dull as a routine chore.

That's because Mrs. Brown thinks unless they have made other plans she has to accept every invitation that comes their way. And once she has accepted an invitation from a bore, she has to repay it and the vicious circle is started.

Don't Be Afraid To Say "No"

This inability to say "No" is paid for not just by Mrs. Brown but also by her husband. When he protests, she says "I just couldn't get out of it," and really believes she is speaking the truth.

Whenever there is chauffeuring to be done, cookies to be baked, a committee to be headed, or any other job to be done, Mrs. Brown's name leads all the rest.

The fact that a person can't say "No" is quickly passed along. Only it is usually stated in more flattering terms, such as, "Ask Mrs. Brown. She's always willing to help out."

Mrs. Brown is so busy doing the things other people dream up for her to do that she doesn't have the time or the energy to figure out what she would like to be doing, or what might be more important for her to do, according to her own and her family's needs and inclinations.

And she'll never get her life uncluttered until she can learn to say "No" and make it stick.

She'll know the better how to make my defense." That was the tough caliber of the men who fought for our liberties, liberties that still deserve fighting for, despite the oratorial gymnastics of some senators.

The World Today— How US Can Repel Red China

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (P)—This is an AC on how the United States can try to keep Red China out of the United Nations.

When the U.N. was created at war's end, Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists were the government of China. As such, they were given U.N. membership. At that time the Chinese Communists were a minority group, not a government.

Later they drove Chiang off the mainland to the island of Formosa. He set up shop there, claiming his was still the real government of all China. The Reds, occupying all the mainland, said they were the government.

The United States, refusing to recognize the Reds, has supported Chiang with arms and money. But 17 of the U.N.'s 60 member nations—including Britain, Russia, India, the Netherlands—have recognized Red China.

The U.N. has two main bodies: Security Council and General Assembly. All 60 U.N. members sit in the Assembly; 11 also sit in the council. Chiang's Nationalists sit in both council and Assembly.

The council is in continuous session; the Assembly meets at intervals. It doesn't meet again until Sept. 21. The fight over Red China, when and if it comes in 1954, is almost certain to be in the Assembly, not in the council.

The council and the Assembly operate more or less independently of each other and have different voting rules. In both places this year at least, the United States appears now to have enough friendly votes to keep Red China out.

This says that on any "important" question like seating a new member, Assembly approval must be by a two-thirds vote. All the United States would need then would be one third of the votes, plus one, to keep Red China out. It could probably do that.

But Russia could argue that Article 18 does not apply because China is already a member and that the only issue was whether to seat the Communists instead of the Nationalists. If the Assembly agreed with this view, and held Article 18 did not apply, a simple majority would decide whether to admit Red China. The United States might run into trouble on that.

Now take the Security Council:

Five of its 11 members are permanent; the United States, Britain, France, China, Russia. The other six, elected from the Assembly, hold their seats on a rotating basis.

At present the six are Brazil, Colombia, Turkey, Lebanon, Denmark and New Zealand.

The council votes on two kinds of questions: (a) procedural (or minor), like setting up a committee to study something and (b) substantive (very important), like telling both sides in a war to stop shooting and withdraw.

Any substantive question, like letting Red China into the Security Council, can be killed by any one of the five permanent members with a simple veto. The United States and Nationalist China, both on the council, would cast vetoes.

So Russia is never likely to agree that membership for Red China is a substantive question. Instead, if it brings the question up in the Security Council at all it is almost certain to try to make it a procedural matter.

The U.N. Charter provides for no veto on a procedural question, which can be approved if 7 of the 11 council members vote for it. But the Communists could hardly vote for all.

And so the turning of the handle went on a bit more and another look was taken. About that time somebody suggested the thin liquid stuff be poured out and an investigation be made of the freezer. That was done and it was found one little thing was missing, there was no paddle. The paddle was then put in, the liquid poured back, the men started turning the handle again and in no time at all there was ice cream for all.

—H.L.

JIMMY LEE, five years old, has two big interests. One is School, which he has been attending, and the other is airplanes.

When he learned recently that the family was going on a trip to Sedalia, he was really thrilled, not only for the trip itself, but his uncle goes up frequently in airplanes.

"Oh," said Jimmy Lee, his eyes shining. "When we get to Sedalia I'm going to have Uncle Damon take me up in a big airplane to see Jesus."

Oscar DeWolf Attends Talks On FHA Policy

Oscar H. DeWolf, local county supervisor for the Farmers Home Administration, has returned to Sedalia after spending several days in conference in Columbia with other Missouri county and state and national supervisors and other officials.

He said that at the conference Harold Williams, assistant to the administrator in charge of the national operating loan division, stressed that care must be used to make sure families being assisted are judged by three factors—adequate resources, a practical farming system and a desire to follow that practice.

Also discussed were the new limitations on farm housing loans for items other than construction or repair of necessary farm buildings. It was pointed out that only a limited amount of loan funds are now available and that possibly eligible applicants should be encouraged to discuss such loans promptly.

There have also been some changes in the farm ownership program which may now make it possible for eligible applicants to become farm owners, DeWolf said. Heretofore the Farmers Home Administration was not authorized to make loans wherein the county FHA committee would certify the value of the farm in excess of the normal agricultural value of the farm after the contemplated improvements had been made, and not to exceed the maximum loan limit for the county as established by the Secretary of Agriculture.

Now, if the eligible applicant has funds of his own in an amount at least equal to the difference between the amount of the former limitations for a loan and the amount influenced by the current market price over the normal agricultural value, it might be possible to complete the necessary details whereby the farm may be purchased. It was the expressed feeling, Mr. DeWolf reported, that with this revision some good thrifty farm tenants might now become farm owners.

For More Picnic Enjoyment Make Use of Handy Aids

This homemaker finds that a new-type, portable mesh grill simplifies outdoor cooking. Aluminum foil is used to line the grill. And to add to the pleasure of the picnic table, she uses plastic-coated paper as an economical tablecloth.

BY KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

With summer cook-out projects on the fire now, new ideas and new gadgets suggest easier ways to make the most of outdoor dining.

Take charcoal, for example, and the rites attendant from the building of a bed of glowing embers. Our masculine chef steps up confidently to the grill, juggling a large sack of charcoal, some kindling wood, newspapers and bellows.

When the smoke clears away, carbon black smudges the landscape, the clothes of the rest of the party, and all the small children who are attracted to the sooty chunks like flies to honey. If this scene sounds familiar, you'll understand why I take more than passing interest in the new, neat packages of charcoal briquets which hold 24 chunks, enough for one fire in most grills. And packaged with the briquets in a sealed foil sack are chips impregnated with a fire starter that gets cooking off to a clean and glowing start in a few minutes.

If you're in the market for a portable grill, by the way, the same company has introduced a low-cost kit which packages a folding grill, charcoal, tongs and a roll of aluminum foil in a carrying case.

The rectangular grill is made, top and bottom, of metal mesh and stands on sturdy folding metal legs.

To put it into operation, you tear off a strip of foil, line the bottom and arrange the charcoal with the tongs. The reflective surface of the foil radiates heat upwards so that cooking is even and rapid. The grill can be used on table top, ground, or indoors in a standard fireplace.

Convenient aids to outdoor dining are new, small aluminum foil pans with crimp-on lids. Among other things, these can serve as individual casseroles which can be prepared in advance and heated or completely cooked over a grill. Keep the lids on until you're ready to eat, and you won't be sharing your dinner with the insects. (Pans can be washed and reused.)

I've also used these pans, weighted with a pebble or two, as ash trays in forest preserves and parks or in other spots where careful treatment of cigarettes is essential. The lids keep ashes and sparks from flying around.

Here's an idea that was new to me. It works like a charm, and tape it to the table at each end with cellulose tape.

On our back yard table, I cover the top with two lengths of a bright polka-dotted plastic-coated paper napkin to table or lap.

Ever been faced with the problem of transporting a large hot casserole to a family or church picnic? Use a large cardboard box. Replace the flapping picnic tablecloth with its four corners weighted with bowls of food.

Unroll a strip of shelf paper, cation lined heavily with newspapers, fill in the empty spaces around the casserole with crumpled newspaper and put a thick layer of papers on top. Tie box with heavy twine for carrying.

I've had casseroles stay piping hot for an hour or two when insulated in this way.

Lincoln Flag Found

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (AP) — The flag from Abraham Lincoln's casket now is the property of the McClean County Historical Society. It covered the coffin of the Civil War President during its journey from Washington, D. C. to Springfield in May, 1865.

Mrs. Inez Dunn, museum custodian, says the American flag was presented by Rev. Leslie C. Arends (R-Ill.) who received it from Mrs. Dorothy Beidler Eddy of Arlington, Va.

When the Lincoln funeral train arrived in Springfield and the casket was removed, the flag was handed to an unidentified Springfield merchant. S. Beidler purchased the flag from the merchant for $10.

With Beidler was his son, Frank, who remembered the transaction and who, before his death, signed an affidavit that the flag covered Lincoln's casket. The affidavit was lost in a fire about 1940 when the home of Donald C. Beidler, brother of Frank, burned at Manhattan, N. Y.

The 9 by 14-foot flag, with 35 stars, now tattered and soiled, was retrieved by Donald Beidler from the attic of the family home. He attempted its restoration and preservation, but it is seriously damaged by age.

paper. If you're economy-minded, you can wipe off the spills, roll up the strips and use them again. And it takes only a couple of tiny strips of tape to anchor a breeze-blown paper napkin to table or lap.

Homemade Peach Sodas Add Gaiety to Living

FRESH PEACH SODAS made at home add to the fun of living on these hot summer days.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Food and Markets Editor

Now is a "peachy" time to add more fun to living. July and August is the season for fresh peaches and ice cream manufacturers are using this luscious fruit prodigally.

So let's get in on the fun.

In pint and half-gallon containers, pre-packaged peach ice cream is economical and easy to pick up at most food stores along with other food purchases. The even more economical half-gallon carton provides 16 generous portions and is on call for several dessert forays.

Peach Sodas

(Yield: 8 servings)

Fruit Bowl Peach Soda: two cups mixed cut-up fresh fruit (sliced peaches, berries or other seasonal fruit, slightly sweetened).

1 quart milk, 2 pints pre-packaged peach ice cream, carbonated water.

Put 1/4 cup mixed fruit in each of 8 tall glasses. Add 1/2 cup milk to each glass with 1/4 pint (1 scoop) peach ice cream. Stir; fill glasses to top with carbonated water.

Broadway Peach Soda

Use 3/4 cup chocolate syrup instead of mixed fruit. Put 3 tablespoons syrup in each glass; con-tinute according to directions.

Peach Ice Cream Meringues

Three egg whites, 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar, 1/8 teaspoon salt, 3/4 cup sugar, 8 cling peach halves, 2 pints pre-packaged peach ice cream.

Beat egg whites until foamy; add cream of tartar and salt; beat until stiff, but not dry.

Gradually add sugar and beat until very stiff. Cover baking sheet with heavy brown paper. Pile meringue into 6 rounds about 6 inches in diameter. Make a 2-inch depression in the center.

Bake in a very slow oven (275 degrees F.) 1 hour. Cool. To serve, place a peach half in each meringue; top with scoop of peach ice cream and Melba Sauce.

Melba Sauce

(Yield: 1 1/2 cups)

One cup fresh raspberries, crushed; 1/4 cup currant jelly, 1/4 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoons cornstarch, 1 tablespoon water.

Combine crushed raspberries, jelly and sugar; bring to a boil. Blend cornstarch and water; mix with small amount of hot mixture. Stir into raspberry mixture and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened and clear. Strain and cool.

wrote that note back in 1909 or in 1941 or even at some other date. But it was apparent she was sick with an urge to take her own life.

Governor Smith said there was some doubt of Brown's guilt. He commuted the 12-year sentence to six years. Under that commutation, and with time off for good behavior in prison, Brown would have won his release last Dec. 5. His son came to Jefferson City to meet him. But a hitch developed.

Between times Missouri had changed governors. The new chief executive was the present governor, Phil M. Donnelly. A lawyer, Donnelly apparently was reluctant to hurry a convict's release by adding the necessary second commutation. There have been other instances when governors have refused to issue second commutations so as to shorten a convict's time in prison—it wasn't a par-icular action taken on a specific case. But Donnelly's refusal of the double header against Schemetadys he had seven hits in seven times at bat. In the first game he smacked a home, triple, double and a single. In the second game he made three hits including a grand slam home.

Brown said last night he was not ready to announce his plans.

Meanwhile, Mark Hunolt has been free since 1951 on parole from a ten-year sentence. A recent letter from his sister, Gertrude Hunolt, told Warden Ralph Eldon that Mark is with her in Montana and is staying out of trouble.
